Dr. Andrew Hugine, Jr. is the 11th President of Alabama A&M University. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in mathematics from South Carolina State University and his doctorate in Higher Education/Institutional Research from Michigan State University. He has presented at numerous professional meetings on strategies for increasing the number of minorities in the STEM disciplines and is the author of three mathematics textbooks.

The University signed a $96 million dollar financing agreement with the U.S. Department of Education, the largest in the Department's history, which was used to refinance existing debt and construct a new 600 bed student residence hall. Enrollment has increased by 5.65%, with the Fall 2015 freshman class of 1,482 being the largest in the University's history. Ten new academic degree programs have been added, private funding has increased by 68% and the University has successfully completed a $20 million capital campaign. More than two dozen memoranda of understanding have been signed with companies, governmental agencies, and universities, including one with the prestigious Confucius Institute.

Dr. Hugine and his wife of more than 40 years, Abbiegail, have a son, Andrew Hugine, III, and daughter-in-law Karen; a daughter, Akilah Hugine-Elmore and a son-in-law, Quincy Elmore; a grandson Amir; and a granddaughter, Nylah.

The Ceremonial Mace

The Ceremonial Mace, representing the authority of the President of the College and the State Board of Education, is carried at the head of the graduation processional. Since the Middle Ages, maces have been regarded as symbols of authority, and their use in academic ceremonies dates back to the founding of institutions of higher learning many centuries ago.

Mr. Glen Young, former cabinetmaking instructor, and his student, Mr. James O'Neal, created the ceremonial mace for Calhoun Community College in 1996. The shaft and head of the mace were turned on a lathe and are solid walnut. A local wood carver, Mr. Robert Lokey, carved the symbols on the head of the mace. Mr. Brad Dean, one of Calhoun's woodworkers, designed and constructed the stand for the mace. Traditionally, the instructor who has the most seniority with Calhoun Community College carries the mace and leads the faculty procession.

This year's mace bearer is Dr. Don Collier, Biology Instructor.
